1. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow :

Ragging refers to 'persistent harassment in a cruel or annoying way.' It is physical, mental, psychological and even sexual harassment of fresher students by the senior students of the same institution. It is meant to make fresher students familiar with seniors and infect confidence among the new entrants but it has become a menace in educational institutions.

P. T. O.

Some senior students tease, torment and even rough up the fresher students under the exercise of “introduction” which finally generates fear among them. Sometimes it starts from innocent and harmless leg pulling and goes up to harsh physical and mental assault. It is the latter type of ragging which is objectionable and matter of great concern. It often leaves an indelible unpleasant mark in one’s life. It leads the victim psychologically shattered and physically wounded. The victims, unable to bear the unimaginable pain, and the shock of physical and mental torture lose their mental balance or even commit suicide. There are cases of many bright students whose careers have been ruined because of the ragging menace.
