

00852 POST GRADUATE DIPLOMA IN MATERNAL
AND CHILD HEALTH
Term-End Examination
June, 2018
MME-203 : CHILD HEALTH

Time : 3 hours

Maximum Marks : 70

Note : All questions are compulsory.

1. How do you triage a sick young infant ? What is the supportive care for a sick neonate ? How will you manage shock in a neonate ? 5+5+5=15

2. Write short notes on the followings : 5x3=15
 - (a) Approach to a case of persistent diarrhoea
 - (b) Advantages of breast feeding
 - (c) Differential diagnosis of fever with cough

3. Write short notes on : 5x3=15
 - (a) Diagnosis and treatment of Rickets
 - (b) Clinical and laboratory findings of hemolytic anemia
 - (c) Diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis

4. Briefly discuss the following : 5x3=15
 - (a) Clinical approach to a case of Anasarca.
 - (b) Complications of Ventricular Septal Defect.
 - (c) Rehabilitation of child with cerebral palsy.

5. Answer the following :

5+5=10

Rohit is 8 months old child. He weighs 8 kg and is brought with complaints of high grade fever for 3 days. Rohit is not able to drink. He is lethargic and had one episode of convulsion, one hour back. He does not have cough or diarrhoea. On assessment for fever, the risk of malaria is low. Rohit does not have stiff neck. Rohit has bulging fontanelle. He does not have measles now or in the last three months. Rohit has discharge from left ear for last 10 days. He is not low weight for age and has no pallor.

- (a) List the probable diagnosis (classification) for this case with justifications.
 - (b) Write the management plan for this case.
-